

Industries

This is one of several flyers focused on industries related to the blue and green economy in Sydney Harbour.

Commercial and recreational fishing

Sydney Harbour is home to a thriving commercial and recreational fishing industry, offering a range of career opportunities related to this field. Here are some careers related to commercial and recreational fishing in Sydney Harbour:

1. Commercial Fishing: Commercial fishing is an important industry in Sydney Harbour, with fishermen harvesting a variety of species, including prawns, squid, and fish. Careers in this field include fishermen, deckhands, and seafood processors.
2. Fisheries Management: Managing fish stocks and ensuring the sustainability of the fishing industry is crucial. Careers in this field include fisheries managers, biologists, and researchers.
3. Seafood Processing: Processing and packaging seafood is a vital part of the commercial fishing industry. Careers in this field include seafood processors, quality assurance managers, and packaging technicians.
4. Seafood Sales and Marketing: Selling and marketing seafood requires knowledge of the industry and the ability to connect with customers. Careers in this field include seafood salespeople, marketers, and customer service representatives.
5. Marine Biology: Understanding the marine ecosystem and the behavior of fish species is crucial for the success of the fishing industry. Careers in this field include marine biologists, fisheries scientists, and researchers.
6. Marine Engineering: Designing and building fishing boats, equipment, and gear requires expertise in marine engineering. Careers in this field include marine engineers, naval architects, and designers.
7. Recreational Fishing: Recreational fishing is a popular activity in Sydney Harbour, with many people fishing for fun or sport. Careers in this field include fishing guides, charter boat captains, and equipment suppliers.

For information about other industries see the full range of Industries flyers.

The Harbour School, Sydney

PO Box 179

Haberfield, NSW 2045

www.theharbourschoolsydney.com